Step 1

Choose a name

1. Say it out loud: if people mishear it, they mistype it.
2. Short beats clever. Skip hyphens and numbers.
3. Search it, and its extensions, in one go.

Step 2

Register it, and keep it

1. The transfer lock is on from day one.
2. Turn on two-factor sign-in for the changes that matter.
3. The domain is yours, not your web designer’s.

Step 3

Point it at your website

1. Pick your host from the list, or type its nameservers.
2. We check them in public DNS before saving.
3. Change host any time; the name goes with you.

Step 4

Verify it for email

1. Add three DKIM records, plus an MX and SPF for bounces.
2. Using Cloudflare? We can add them for you.
3. We check them until the domain is verified.

Step 5

Send from your name

1. Receipts, sign-in links and alerts, from you@yourbusiness.
2. By API from your code, or SMTP from WordPress, Laravel or Django.
3. Watch each email go from queued to delivered.
